Data career: one-page summary

Pick a role, then copy the text or download it. The file name is filled in for you with the role, date and time, so you never type a name and repeated downloads never share one.

Analyst summary Scientist summary

```
duplicates, fixing text and date formats; Readable charts
Month 2: SQL
  Skills: SELECT, WHERE, ORDER BY, LIMIT; INNER and LEFT JOINs; GROUP BY, HAVING, aggregates; Subqueries and CTEs; Window functions: ROW_NUMBER, running totals, rankings
Month 3: Python with pandas
  Skills: Python basics: variables, loops, functions; Loading CSV and Excel files; Filtering, sorting, grouping, merging; Missing values and duplicates;
Plots with matplotlib or seaborn
Month 4: Tableau or Power BI Skills: Connecting to files and databases; KPIs, filters, interactive charts; Calculated fields or DAX measures; Dashboard layout; Storytelling and sharing
Month 5: Portfolio
  Skills: Choosing a project question that matters; Documenting cleaning decisions; Findings and recommendations in plain language; GitHub or portfolio page; Presenting to non-technical people
Month 6: Job search
  Skills: Resume with measurable results; SQL and Excel interview practice; Metric and case questions; LinkedIn and networking; Project stories for behavioral questions

Show employers: 3 portfolio projects with a written summary; One dashboard others can open and use; A clean GitHub or portfolio page; One project from a
```

Copy summary Download file

Monthly code

Each month has a code example for that month's topic. Click the three dots beside a month heading to view, copy or download its code. It follows the role chosen above.

Month 1: Excel and statistics basics •••

Month 2: SQL •••

Month 3: Python with pandas •••

Month 4: Tableau or Power BI •••

Month 5: Portfolio •••

Month 6: Job search •••

Thank you!

Thanks for reading. Keep practicing a little every day, and good luck with your data career.